RECENT EVENTS

3/15 - Online Ship Meeting

C.O. Sterling opened the meeting with discussion of ship norms and upcoming events and Ensign James, with assistance from Recruit Dersch, demonstrated several gameplay modes for Star Trek Online.

3/28 - Impromptu Away Mission

Seven crew met at Time Travel Events' Goblin Market: Goblins in Space to engage in diplomacy and commerce at this meeting of cultures from across the multiverse. Read more in Ensign Bug's excellent After Action Report.

4/1 - 4/10 Artemis II mission

For the first time in over 50 years, human beings break Earth orbit and traveled past the far side of the Moon!

4/12 - In person Ship Meeting

10 crew members met at Ship and Anchor Pub in Sandy Springs for fun, fellowship, and forgetting to take pictures!

Our C.O got a promotion! Be sure to address January "Red Alert" Sterling as Lieutenant Commander next you see her!

Mar. 28th - Terminus crew members showing their Starfleet pride at the Goblin Market event. Plus one space witch.

CREW THOUGHTS

Recruit Jayden Dersch would like to share his brief essay, Star Trek Turns 60 — Why It Still Matters. It begins:

"This year marks the 60th anniversary of Star Trek. For a series that first aired in the 1960s, that kind of longevity is remarkable. But for many of us, Star Trek has always been more than just entertainment. It offered a vision of the future where cooperation mattered, diversity was a strength, and problems were solved with empathy as often as technology. What's remarkable is how relevant those ideas still feel today..."
